

THE ALCHEMY OF DRUMS WITH OMESH

This is an introduction into the world of African rhythmic music.

A course where you can learn to play Tribal Drums, and the music of our ancestors.

The drum is one of mans most ancient instruments, and since the beginning of time the drum has been used in community gatherings to bring people together for dance and celebration.

This course will give beginners the fundamental understanding and experience needed for playing drums in a group, and practiced drummers will expand their knowledge with new rhythms, while also absorbing a deeper sense for the dynamics of percussion music. We will play on different drums like the Djembe, Boukarabou, and the Doundounba Bass drums, and learn the different playing techniques of each.

Percussion music is arranged in multiple layers of rhythmic patterns, and we will explore many possibilities and variations of playing drum melodies, ending up with creating our own unique drum sound.

Through playing African tribal beat music, we gradually leave our mind behind, and sink into into a world of "spirit drums". A journey where we discover how to touch and move people simply by playing groovy music together.

Playing drums together can be energetic and dynamic, earthy and vibrant, and together with freinds we will create an orchestra of drums and a celebration of life.

Omesh has been playing African drums for 15 years. As well as leading workshops and drum courses, he has also created the Spirit-drum dance meditation, and shared it at many Festivals throughout Europe.

Drum music has a natural way to take us into a deeper space inside.

To combine the vibrant energy of drums with the stillness of meditation is the essence of my workshop.
